Fond du Lac Ojibwe Schools

The Fond du Lac Ojibwe School is proud to dedicate this year's Ogichida Yearbook in honor of Dan Anderson. Mr. Anderson has served the Ojibwe School and the Fond du Lac Reservation for 21 years, serving primarily as a grant writer, curriculum developer, operations and maintenance manager, and overall education planner.

As a result of Mr. Anderson's dedication and commitment to our education program, we have achieved much. Our curriculum is aligned to meet both state and American Indian Outcomes. We have built a new school. We have also a focused long range plan to meet the diverse needs of our students.

Chi Miigwech to Mr. Anderson. We fully recognize your contributions to our program and to our Reservation. We wish you continued good health to you and your family.

Canoe Races 2003

Grab your oars and some friends and race to the lake!

The twelfth annual canoe races were held on September 26th. What looked like rain turned into a beautiful day for all the students, staff, and community of the Fond du Lac Ojibwe School.

This year there were many new attractions and activities. For example, there was the blow up mazes, a big spinning strawberry, and the football tug all from Doucette's Party Rental. The FACE program made everyone happy when they showed up with the cotton candy machine. Flag football, face painting, and a rep from x-sports were there getting kids signed up and giving away free beach balls.

The day passed quickly and ended with everyone gathering for a group photo behind the drum. See you next year at the 13th Annual Ojibwe School Canoe Races.

Friends

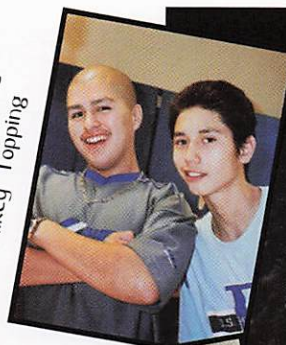

The Hardest Thing in the World to Explain is Friendship

Aaron Kingbird and Timmy Morgan just reading a book together.

"Friendship is the hardest thing in the world to explain. It's not something you learn in school but if you haven't learned the meaning of friendship, you haven't really learned anything in school," according to Muhammad Ali. Students at the Fond du Lac Ojibwe High School think friends are someone who has your back. They never argue with you and they listen to you all the time.

SCIENCE FAIR

This years Science Fair was very successful.

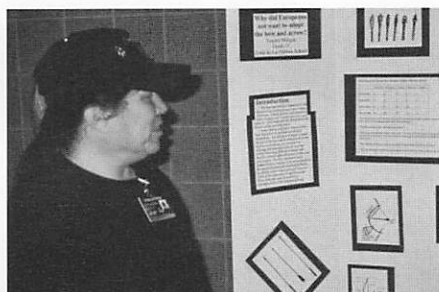

Many students from grades six through twelve participated.

There was a bit of competition between the grades for a trip to Albuquerque. The judges were impressed with all the entrees. It was a very hard decision for them.

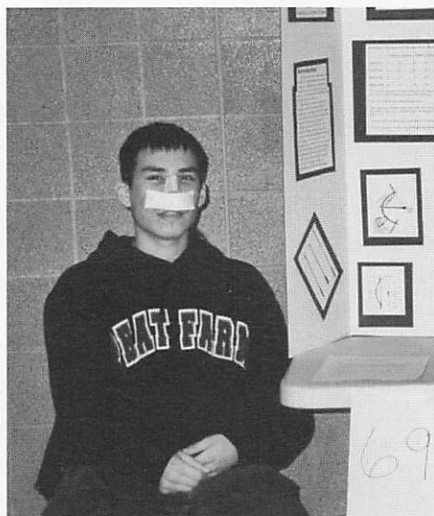

Top: Brenden Gingras' Project.
Right: Tommy and Aron having a very deep conversation.
Bottom: Judging can be very difficult.

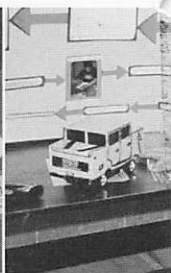

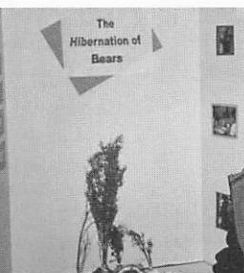

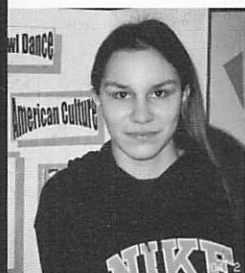

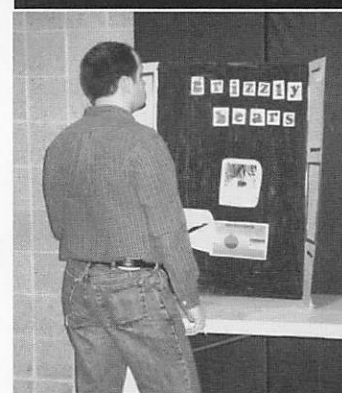

Bottom Right: I think we'll have to sit and think on these projects for a moment.

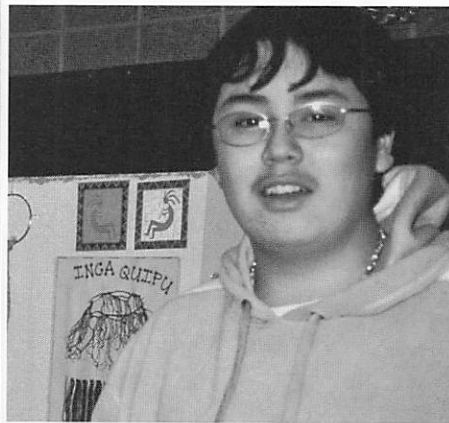

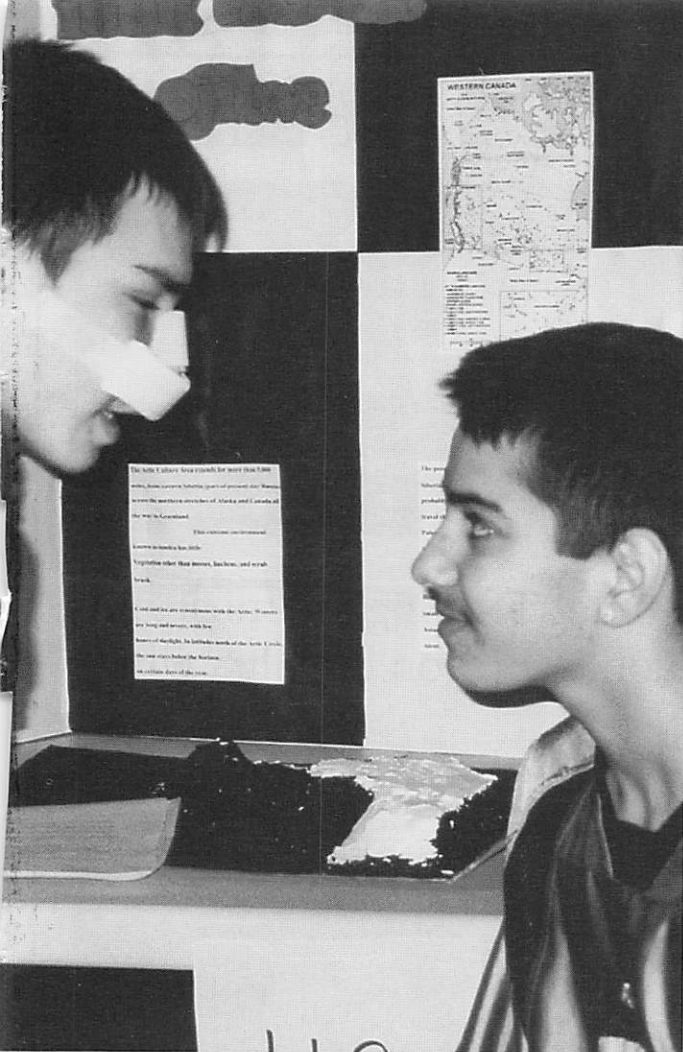

John Henry looks very interested in one of the student's projects.

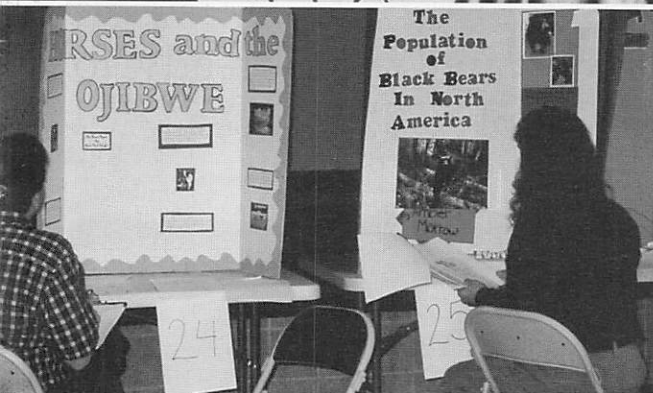

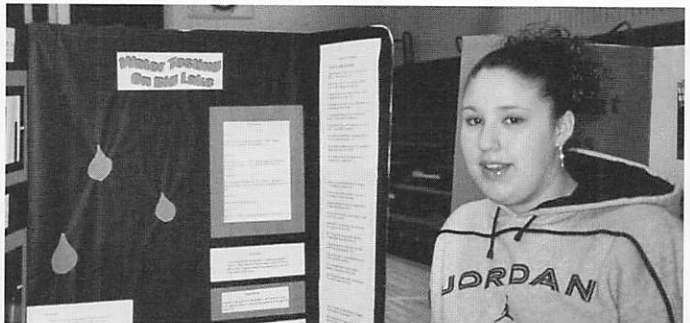

Tommy Morgan just waiting to be judged for his fine piece of work.

* The Students Who Won the Trip to Albuquerque

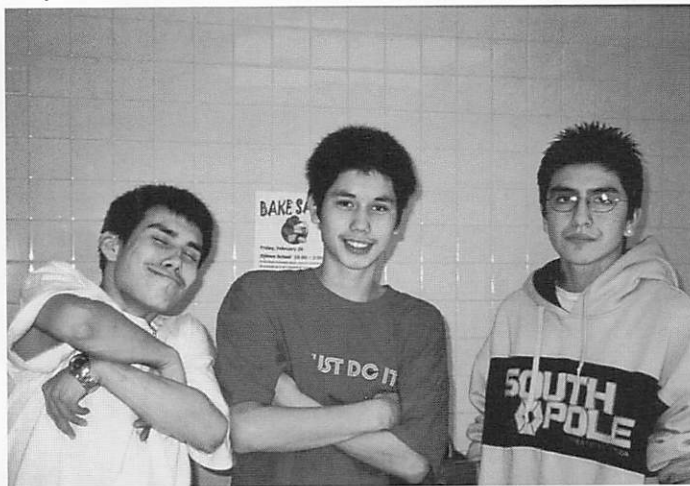

- Clint Northrup did his project on the Quipu number system that was used by the Inca.
- Maggie Defoe did lots of hard work to figure out the traditional ways to start a fire.
- Corrie Sullivan learned about traditional fertilizer using fish.
- Emily Houle did a study on how power can come from a potato.
- Sa'Shawna Lone did her project on rise and decline of population on the reservation.
- Aurelia DeNasha did her project on testing bird feathers by the DNA.

Student Council

Student Council was busy this year. Planning fun activity weeks and working on some of the issues of the school. It was a good year with planning things like the 3 on 3 tournament, Halloween Activity Week, the cops game, Winter Activity Week and all of the other fun things we did this year. The council consisted of Cindy Mayorga (advisor), James "Waab" Martin, Mikey Topping, Amanda Gingras, Alicia "Beezey" Anderson, Christina Martineau, Miranda Houle, Curtis Houle, Marcus St. John, Jon Anderson, Amanda Reynolds, Clint Northrup, and Eddie Smith.
